Aspiring Minds Launches AMCAT Toppers Club: Finding India's most employable

New Delhi, October 2, 2013: Our father of the nation, Mahatma Gandhi once said, “The future depends on what you do today”. Embracing the philosophy on his 143rd birth anniversary today, Aspiring Minds, India’s leading employability solutions company announced ‘AMCAT Toppers Club’, India’s first initiative to find the most employable candidates across the country. An effort to improve the future of invisible talent, this esteemed club will be accessible to over 550+ companies across the country enabling them to hire the best.

Selection to the Club is based on Aspiring Minds Computer Adaptive Test (AMCAT), India’s largest employability test. The final quarterly merit list will contain 500 highly employable candidates in different fields from a pool of AMCAT assessed engineers, MBAs and graduates. Every year more than 500,000 students take AMCAT, making it larger than management tests like CAT.

Mr. Varun Aggarwal, CTO and COO, Aspiring Minds, stated that “The idea behind the initiative is to find India’s most employable candidates hidden across states, cities and colleges and match them with India’s top companies. There is tremendous potential in Indian youth which is getting lost in the clutter. We want to unleash this potential through a scientific process”.

The merit list along with photographs of the candidates will be published on the AMCAT website. Companies can filter the talent according to their specific needs from the list. The list will further be sent to over 550 clients and 12000 corporate recipients of Aspiring Minds' newsletter Talent Prism. A certificate of merit from AMCAT will also be provided to the candidates, which they can further use with their resume to enhance their chances in independent job search.

Interested candidates should visit <https://www.myamcat.com> for participation.
