Over 1050 Students at Thapar University Take AMCAT, India's Largest Employability Test

Patiala, Aug 16 2012: Gearing up for the placement season, premium institutes like Thapar University - are leaving no stones unturned in getting the best jobs. Over 1050 students of B.Tech, MCA, MBA, Bio-Tech, M.Tech took AMCAT, held between 13th – 16th August at the Thapar University campus in partnership with Aspiring Minds, India's leading Employability Measurement Company.

More than 120 companies use AMCAT scores to hire freshers, including HCL, Sapient, Ericsson, ITC, SBI Life, Nokia, Keane, and Accor Hotels. Aspiring Minds has aided over 12,000 freshers to get a job on merit in the last year.

AMCAT is a tool to assess and benchmark the skills of test takers in various modules including English Comprehension, Quantitative Ability, Logical Ability, Personality assessment, Computer Programming, Electronics, other engineering domain modules as well as MBA specializations like Finance, Marketing, HR etc.

Based on the test, each assessed student would receive AMCAT's Seven-Stroke Employability feedback - a detailed personalized report with scores on their performance on each module— that helps to understand the suitability of the candidate to the most desirable sector and functional area.

Aspiring Minds Co-Founder and Director, Varun Aggarwal, an MIT, USA alumnus said, "AMCAT enables students to assess their job skills and be better prepared for the industry. We hope the students of Thapar University are able to get closer to their dream jobs and be well prepared for the impending placement season."
